

WARNING! WARNING! DANGER! DEADWORLD HANDOUTS

USE OF THIS PROP

These are various leaflet drops, handouts, and posted notices from the early days of the Ordog Effect campaign.

Suggestions for use:

1. Toss a handful around the table when a group of characters enter a city or town.
2. Shove a handful in the face of a player whose character is trying to talk to the police, National Guard, or local militia member.
3. Take some and much 'em up with mud, footprints, watercolor "bloody" handprints, etc. then toss 'em around the gaming table.
4. While the players are talking amongst themselves, if they have a radio tuned to a local or emergency band, read the handouts in either a bored monotone or a series of frantic stuttering outbursts.
5. Have a local member of the Guard or police "draft" characters into posting these notices. This isn't as bad as it sounds – it gives the characters open access to all areas of the town or city...
